HEALTH CAREERS CLUB OF NEW RICHMOND HIGH

The purpose of our club is to introduce students to members of one of the most important team in our community the health team. To gain an understanding of the many allied health fields; to give guidance and encouragement to qualify for the career that the student has chosen to pursue in earning a livelihood. Emphasis is also placed on employment opportunities and the personal reward of aiding all humanity.

New Richmond's newly formed Theatre Department began an ambitious season of three productions with the world premiere presentation of Josephine Johnson's NOW IN NOVEMBER Adapted from the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel by John Marshall of the New Richmond faculty, the production was a unique blend of interpretive reading, acting and pantomine performed on open platform sets. Miss Johnson, the author and Clermont County's only Pulitzer Prize winner, attended the second performance. Due to her response to the work, the script as originally presented has been sent to theatrical groups throughout the country and is currently being considered for publication.
